20 killed as rebels bomb port

AT least 20 people were killed and dozens hurt in rocket attacks by pro-Russian rebels in eastern Ukraine's government-held port of Mariupol yesterday.

Rockets hit a market in a residential area, the city's police chief said.

The main eastern Ukraine rebel leader said an offensive against Mariupol had begun, it was reported.

Since April, more than 5,000 people have died in fighting in the east.

The rebels have seized a large swathe of the Donetsk and Luhansk regions.

More than a million people have been displaced.

Leader, Alexander Zakharchenko, said on Friday that he did not want truce talks with the government.

A ceasefire was agreed in Minsk in September but never fully took hold.

OUTRAGE OVER ISIS MURDER CLAIM VID

OFFICIALS are investigating a new online message purporting to be from the extremist Islamic State group about the two Japanese hostages it holds.

The message claimed one hostage has been killed and demanded a prisoner exchange for the other. But the post was deleted quickly, and militants on a website affiliated with the Islamic State group disagreed about the message's authenticity.

Japan's chief cabinet secretary, Yoshihide Suga, said government ministers were holding an emergency meeting about the new message.

Prime minister Shinzo Abe told reporters as he rushed into his office that the new message was "an outrageous and unforgivable act", adding: "We demand their immediate release."

Kyodo News agency reported that the same video has been emailed to the wife of one of the hostages.

The Islamic State group had threatened on Tuesday to behead the men within 72 hours unless it received a £133 million ransom.

Charles and Cam respects to Saudi king

THE Prince of Wales and David Cameron arrived in Saudi Arabia yesterday to pay their respects following the death of King Abdullah.

The Prime Minister is meeting the new King Salman and other members of the royal family during his visit to Riyadh, with other world leaders including French president Francois Hollande also travelling to the country.

The U.S. delegation is led by vice president Joe Biden, but Barack Obama will cut short a visit to India to travel to Saudi Arabia on Tuesday.

King Abdullah died aged 90. He was buried in an unmarked grave in Riyadh after Friday prayers.

King Salman, 79, pledged continuity after his accession to the throne.

Rocker changes cosmic address

EDGAR Froese, the founding member of the German electronic group Tangerine Dream, has died in Vienna, aged 70.

He died unexpectedly on Friday after a pulmonary embolism, his son, Jerome, said.

Tangerine Dream's psychedelic use of synthesiser sound was a significant influence on the development of electronic music.

Froese, who was born on D-Day – June 6, 1944 – in what is now Sovetsk, Russia, once said "there is no death, there is just a change of our cosmic address".

MAKE QUEEN LIVE IN COUNCIL HOUSE

Green loons want to boot out Her Maj

FROM ROYALS TO ROYLES: Greens' plan for Her Majesty

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

BARMY Green Party nutmunchers want to EVICT the Queen from Buckingham Palace and force her to live on a council estate.

The Greens, who also want to BAN the Grand National, ABOLISH the Army and LEGALISE killer death drug heroin, want rid of the Royals.

And although the crackpot party has only one MP – in bohemian Brighton – the Greens will get to have their say alongside real political parties during televised leaders' debates in this year's election campaign.

In an interview with snoots' bible The Times, Green leader Natalie Bennett said that her party would remove the royal family from Buckingham Palace, but added she was "sure we can find a council house for her" as a result of their programme to build more.

Ms Bennett hinted that the Greens would have a top rate of tax higher than 50p, with a wealth tax on multi-millionaires as part of a plan to "restructure society with the rich paying their way and multinationals paying taxes".

The party has benefited from a membership surge and the broadcasters have now invited Ms Bennett to take part in two televised debates ahead of the general election in recognition of its popularity – and David Cameron's insistence that the Greens be included following the decision to let UKIP's Nigel Farage take part.

Ms Bennett told The Times that her party was attracting disaffected Labour supporters and "anti-Ukip voters".

She babbled: "People are really hungry for something different. There is an element of us being fresh and new, but we are also talking about ideas, optimism and changing things. We need to restructure society with the rich paying their way and multinationals paying taxes.

"People sometimes say to me, 'I saw you and I stopped shouting at the TV and throwing things at it. I finally agree with a politician'."

Among their radical policies are the abolition of the monarchy, but Ms Bennett said the Queen would not be homeless.

"I'm sure we can find a council house for her – we're going to build lots more," she said.

Sunday will start bright enough, but rain and gusty winds will spread south throughout the day. It'll be most draughty in the northwest.

Monday will see a bit more sun, but it'll still be brass monkeys and there will be the odd wintry shower, particularly in western Scotland.

Tuesday will be quite fine but it'll be back to mittens and cold balls by Thursday and Friday as Jack Frost returns with a vengeance.

'Girlfriend' fuels Kelly lesbo hints

SAUCY Kelly Brook has got fans whispering after admitting she's sworn off MEN... and is now living with a "girlfriend" instead.

Some admirers have seized on the model's comments and decided she's become a rug muncher following her recent split from model David McIntosh.

The actress and pin-up, who is living in Los Angeles while filming new U.S. sitcom One Big Happy, revealed: "I'm completely single at the moment.

"I'm just living with my girlfriend. I've got a beautiful apartment in an old Hollywood building and we have a great time.

"There's no boys messing up the house. I'm like, 'Are you going out tonight?' And she's like, 'Nah, let's watch a movie'. It's a no-boy zone."

One Twitter user commented on the 35-year-old: "Kelly Brook getting hot and steamy with another girl? Bloody hell, I think I need a lie down just thinking about it!"

Iggy plans a good old gyrating!

HIP-HOP babe Iggy Azalea says she wants to keep "gyrating in a leotard when she's 35!"

The 24-year-old Sydney rapper is known for her saucy performances and jaw-dropping outfits.

But instead of claiming the raunchy look is just a phase, Iggy (above) insists she want to stay just as rude for at least a decade.

The Fancy singer revealed: "If I have a very long career and can be gyrating in a leotard at 35, that would be great.

"You never know how long you'll be in people's good graces, especially in this business.

"I hope it's long, but I could be here for three or four years and then be out, like most artists. So it depends. I might be here for a long time.

"At the very worst, if I have a short-lived career, at least I could say I sparked a change."

CORRIE CRASH MINIBUS COULD HAVE KILLED US!

QUARRY DRAMA: Stills from explosive episode (right) which was shot at outdoors sex hotspot

THE Coronation Street minibus crash delivered the soap a ratings boost – but two DOGGERS claim it nearly KILLED them.

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Almost nine million people watched as the minibus, driven by Steve McDonald, careered off a cliff with a gaggle of drunk Underworld workers in the back.

But the drama on screen was nothing compared to the drama on location, according to local sex people Janet and Kelvin Harper.

The crash scene was filmed at a quarry near Glossop, Derbys, which unknown to the ITV show's production team, is a hotbed of illicit after-dark sexual activity.

Regulars Janet and Kelvin say they were in their Vauxhall Viva "waiting for the action to start" when the minibus dropped out of the night sky.

Janet, 56, yelped: "I was just pouring us a bit of soup from the Thermos when there was this almighty roar and crash.

"It missed us by inches. When I think about it, we could have been killed."

A source close to Corrie said: "There was no-one near that site. This pair must be a couple of compo-seekers."

WINTERWATCH presenter Michaela Strachan says she wants her body to be fed to SHARKS when she carks it.

She explained: "I'll be buried in a biodegradable box, or have my body fed to sharks!

"I also want people to be sad – having a party and getting drunk seems so disrespectful."

Michaela has also urged viewers to stop sending her photos of animals in order for her to identify them – because she hasn't got a fking clue.

She laughed: "One misapprehension about me is that I know everything about British wildlife!

"People send my photos of obscure insects asking what they are, but I don't have a clue. Chris Packham does, so they should ask him!"

Machete killing is murder probe

POLICE have launched a murder inquiry after a machete attack victim died following a fight outside a pub.

The 19-year-old man was pronounced dead at the scene after being attacked near the Pike and Musket pub in Tuffley, Gloucester, at about 12.40am yesterday.

Officers said two other men, 18 and 22, were also assaulted by an offender armed with a weapon believed to be a machete.

The 22-year-old man was taken to hospital with serious injuries, where he underwent surgery and is now in a stable condition. The third victim had minor injuries.

A police spokesman said: "We are treating this as a murder investigation and would like to speak to anyone who witnessed what happened in the pub's car park."

A man has been arrested in connection with the attack, police said last night.

SUNDAY Sport
THE VOICE OF YOUR BRITAIN

Ban the boobs discussion will rage on & on

YOU may have noticed, over recent days, a lively discussion about a certain foreign-owned, London-based newspaper and its "Page 3" feature.

Here at Sunday Sport we have smiled at the controversy.

We have no idea if The Sun newspaper manufactured the brouhaha as a "publicity stunt" to boost circulation.

Frankly, we don't care.

The debate over whether or not to include topless models is one we simply do not have at Sport Towers.

Sunday Sport – along with its Midweek and Weekend sister publications – will NEVER hit the newsstands without a HOST of topless models inside.

For us, the gorgeousness of the undraped female form is not a "bolt on" single-page feature to be jettisoned on a whim.

Tasteful nudity is at the very heart of our publications.

While we respect the views of those who object to the publication of gentle female nudity in newspapers, we fundamentally disagree with them.

Artistic mankind has depicted the undraped female form since time immemorial. The Venus of Willendorf, uncovered by archaeologists in 1908, is estimated at being more than 25,000 years old.

Strident activists who criticise modern renderings of feminine beauty thus trample on 25 millennia of human experience.

We cannot agree with the statement that pictures of semi-nude women in national newspapers demean women.

We celebrate female political power, sporting achievement, literary skill and scientific endeavour. Why not physical beauty?

The debate over topless models in newspapers is far from over. Indeed, it will become ever more animated.

However heated the discussion becomes, we shall continue printing pictures of topless models.

That is our promise.

The Lord's sprayer

THE urban artist Wanky has made quite a name for himself daubing his "tag" – a giant cock 'n' balls – on public spaces across the Queen's realm.

Supermarkets, trains and private homes have all fallen prey to his destructive spray can.

Victims could easily be forgiven for considering Wanksy a common vandal – rather than any form of artist.

But his latest escapade strikes at the very heart of our national soul.

By defacing St Paul's, he has attacked the parish church of Britain, and should hang his head in shame.

MPs were polishing Big Ben's bellend with gusto – after a stunning TOPLESS glamour pin-up appeared on a top BBC politics show.

Gorgeous Laura Lacole made a scene-stealing show on BBC One's This Week, hosted by Andrew Neil, to fight for the right for women to pose with their boobs out.

The articulate 25-year-old won armies of admirers for the way she debated with anti-Page 3 Green MP Caroline Lucas.

Belfast-born model Laura, a pert 32D, argued: "Getting rid of topless glamour models in UK newspapers would detrimentally affect females.

"This is a female-orientated industry, females in front of and behind the camera as photographers, make-up artists and hair stylists.

"It would be a blow to an entire industry that affects women. That is not in aid of the feminist movement.

"That's regressing something. It is taking away a right of women to express their sexuality.

"It is about celebrating and expressing that side of people and people appreciating that.

"That is an age-old dance between men and women and women and women, that appreciation of the nude form is something humans have and want to express that.

"It is fine and healthy."

What DID Katie shove up Alex's bum?

G-RIM NEWS: Alex was 'disappointed' Katie would discuss his rear end

Alicia 'gagging for a shagging'

AXED housemate Alicia Douvall couldn't wait to quit the show – admitting she was gagging for a SHAG!

The glamour model, 36, got the boot on Friday night following a public vote.

But the blonde didn't seem too bothered, telling Katie Price: "I'm like a dog on heat in here!"

The beauty, real name Sarah Howes, also says appearing in the series has done her confidence the world of good, adding: "I've found my voice, I've found my power."

Michelle Visage agreed with those sentiments, telling housemates following Alicia's dismissal: "She walked out with more confidence than she walked in with."

Cami so fresh in her knickers

HOUSEMATES went MINGE MAD yesterday – flashing their fannies while discussing their intimate clunge secrets.

The staggering display began when American model Cami Li, 28, revealed that she's got a lovely, sweet-smelling ladygarden.

She confessed: "I take pro-biotics for vaginal freshness."

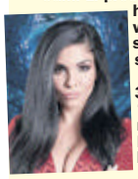
Singer Kavana, 37, told her: "Your vagina is like a delicate flower."

But bolshy Katie Hopkins, 39, clearly doesn't rate her mimsy, replying: "Mine is like a battered old daffodil!"

The Channel 5 ladies weren't done with their gash antics, either.

Cami Li proceeded to wiggle her hips while wearing a very short pair of shorts.

And Katie Price, 36, exclaimed: "Cami, you've got no knickers on, I've just seen your breakfast!"



Horny Callum gets bollocked

CALUM Best is heading for a world of pain when he leaves the Big Brother house – admitting he's got a girlfriend on the outside, despite his constant flirting with Cami Li.

Bitchy Perez Hilton, 36, warned Cami: "If I was her, I would not be happy."

But womaniser Calum, 33, did little to dampen the flames of passion after ogling Cami while clearly nursing a semi.

After looking at her eviction outfit, Calum told her: "Goddam, you look so good."

But their blossoming romance isn't all a bed of roses as – like any girlfriend – she was soon giving him a proper bollocking in front of his mates.

After Calum tried to get Cami to calm down while she rowed with Perez, she snapped back at her in-house lover: "Don't you try and censor me!"

NO BUTTS: Katie told how she did not 'want to be the man'

By JOHN FITZPATRICK

IT'S the Celebrity Big Brother riddle taking the world by storm – what has Alex Reid had shoved up his ARSE?

His ex-wife Katie Price, 36, shocked viewers during a raunchy sex chat in the CBB house on Tuesday.

Discussing her former partner's intimate bedroom habits, Brighton beauty Katie didn't hold back when dishing the dirt on Alex, 39.

Katie – who was married to the former cage fighter from 2010 to 2011 – revealed she frequently rammed bizarre items in her fella's rusty sheriff's badge.

The 34C pin-up revealed: "I couldn't put enough up there. A lot of straight men like to have the pinkie up there, but Alex wanted it all.

Outlandish

"That's why I divorced him. Because I didn't want to be the man in the relationship."

Fans quickly took to the internet to discuss what outlandish items the star could have had rammed up his fudge chute.

One group reckoned the star may have enjoyed having the obscure dragon fruit inserted into his anus, though others were quick to point out the internal damage that could be caused by the exotic plant, with its abnormal shape and rim-tearing leaves.

Others were convinced the star had been on the receiving end of a Barbie, a car horn and even a miniature fire extinguisher.

Responding to claims made by his ex, Alex said: "I'm disappointed Katie would bring up private information."

CBB BABES OFFERED £1M FOR LESBO PORN FLICK

UNLIKELY best pals Katie Price and Katie Hopkins are at the centre of an X-rated lesbian PORN movie scandal!

The twosome have forged an alliance while on Channel 5's Celebrity Big Brother.

Now the bosom buddies could REALLY put their new friendship to the test, after being offered a cool £1 million to appear in a girl-on-girl sex tape.

The extraordinary offer has been made by Brit adult TV producers Television X.

A spokeswoman last night told Sunday Sport: "The British public has warmed to Katie Hopkins – and Katie Price is still as sexy as ever.

"The pair of them make a delicious couple, and we're willing to break the bank to see them get hot-and-steamy together. Come on ladies, you know you want to!"

A lucrative romp between the two Katies might just prove tempting.

Price, 36 (right), famously made her own DIY sex movie with a former boyfriend back in 2000.

And former Apprentice star Hopkins, 39 (left), was snapped shagging hubby Mark Cross while NUDE in a field in 2007.

A Celeb Big Brother spokesman declined to comment.

Neighbour stood naked in street for death threat

A "NEIGHBOUR from hell" stood naked in his street brandishing a mallet and shouting threats, a court heard!

At first people were amused by the sight of Ian Sims, 31, running out of his house wearing just a towel and waving a mallet. But they became alarmed as Sims shouted a death threat at his neighbour's daughter and walked towards her waving the mallet with one hand while holding the towel in the other.

The court was told a row broke out among parents in the street over an incident that occurred during a football game between local youngsters.

Sims ran out of his home wearing only a towel and threatening "I'm going to kill you, you fking bitch!" to the neighbour.

Gloucester Crown Court heard: "His towel dropped off and she was initially amused but then she saw the mallet in his hand and he walked towards her with the mallet held over his head."

The jobless dad-of-five, now of Churchdown, Glos, pleaded guilty to possessing an offensive weapon in public.

The judge dubbed Sims "...a neighbour from hell," and handed him four-months jail suspended two years.

A CONVICTED sex offender was arrested for ejaculating on a female supermarket worker's neck.

The 24-year-old woman told authorities she was stocking lower shelves when dirty Rasheed Ali Baker, 28, coughed his filthy love snot on her.

Police reported: "The employee saw a tall black male walking away quickly wiping his hands on his clothes."

Police found the substance on the back of the victim was semen.

The alleged victim told cops that she had seen the suspect in the store several times before.

Baker, of Lawrenceville, Georgia, was charged with two counts of public indecency.

He was convicted of a serious sexual offence in 2006.

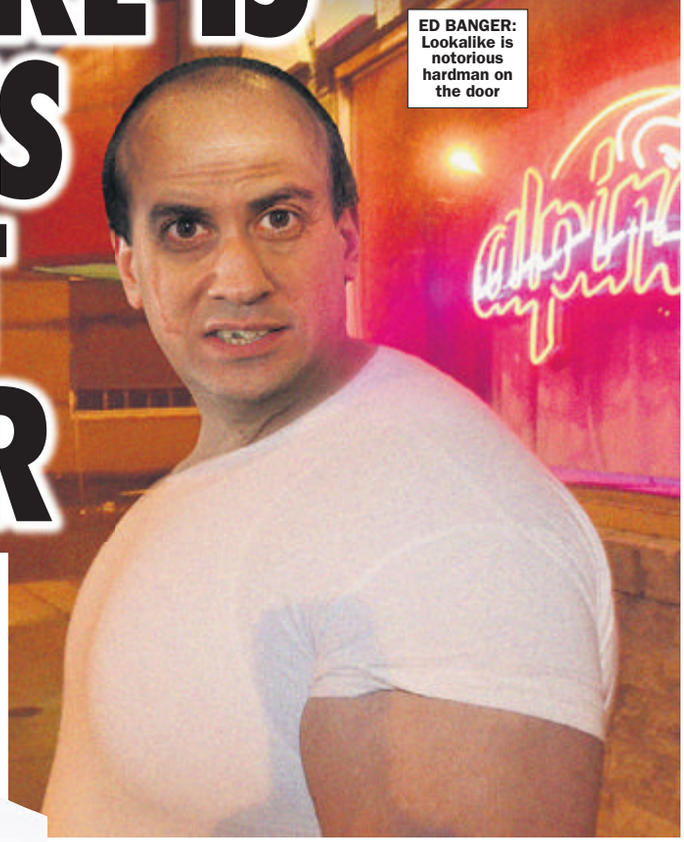
ED MILIBAND LOOKALIKE IS BRITAIN'S HARDEST BOUNCER

SUNDAY Sport EXCLUSIVE



ED BANGER: Lookalike is notorious hardman on the door

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

SOME people, emboldened by liquor, often feel the need to point out that nightclub bouncer Danny Halstead bears an uncanny resemblance to Labour leader Ed Miliband.

They don't make that error twice…

For 27-year-old Danny is notorious for having the shortest temper of any doorman in Britain – and the man-mountain has plenty of muscle to make his grievances physical.

Trainers

Danny, who lives with his mother and is fed on a strict diet of meat-based milkshakes and steroids said: "Some ct – student ct – said I looked like that Labour bloke off the telly.

"I said, 'Say that again ct' and when he did I smacked him. Ct."

It is such prompt recourse to violence which has led to Danny being regularly investigated by the authorities, though he has never been convicted of any offence.

Not a man of many words, Danny – from Manchester – then spotted our man was wearing trainers and our interview drew rapidly to a close.

Last night a source close to Ed Miliband said: "I'm not entirely sure that Ed knows an awful lot about bouncers.

"I can't imagine he was that much of a clubber in his youth.

"But I'm absolutely sure that he thinks hardworking bouncers are the backbone of Britain – who deserve a decent living wage and a decent health service, or some shit like that."

Being the spitting image of a homicidal doorman is likely to be the least of Ed Miliband's problems.

Last week it emerged that Labour was sinking even further in the polls, thanks to support leaking away to the barmy Green Party – which wants to legalise terrorists and bulldoze motorways to make room for bees.

A poll last week for Tory Party pollster Lord Ashcroft described Mr Miliband as "…one of those animals that, when you go to the zoo, you're not bothered whether you see it or not."

HOOKER KILLER 'INSPIRED BY HORROR FLICK'

A MAN accused of murdering a prostitute may have been inspired by the plot of violent horror film Hostel, a court heard.

Father-of-three Michael Wenham, 36, is accused of hacking Karolina Nowikiewicz to death in a seemingly unprovoked attack at her flat before covering her naked body in a blanket and calling the police.

The jury had earlier been told that he carried out the attack after coming off drugs designed to suppress his sexual desires following a botched operation to enlarge his penis.

Reading Crown Court was also told that Wenham wanted to become a hitman and kill radical Islamist preacher Islam Choudhary, even contacting MI5.

But top psychiatrist Dr Richard Taylor said the killing closely resembled the climax to the American film, in which a group of backpackers are lured into an eastern European hotel and tortured.

In the gruesome final scene, one of the characters is beheaded from behind in a frenzied attack.

Dr Taylor told the court: "Horror movies are a mainstream genre and lots of people watch them – the enjoyment in them is getting frightened.

"But Mr Wenham has a paraphilia so when he watches a horror movie he goes away and starts ruminating and starts fantasising about what he has just seen."

Wenham admitted fantasising about torturing people after watching the movie in 2012.

On Friday the IT contractor refused to take to the witness stand, despite being sworn as the key witness in his own defence case.

Wenham, from Uxbridge, Greater London, denies a single charge of murder in Slough, Berks, and the trial continues.

Fury as cock 'n' balls graffiti artist tags London landmark

A DAREDEVIL graffiti artist who "tags" hard-to-reach places has pulled his most audacious stunt yet – daubing a COCK 'N' BALLS on St Paul's Cathedral.

The vandalism is signed "Wanksy" – the name for an anonymous dauber whose fame is approaching that of fellow Brit street artist Banksy.

Wanksy has previously drawn genitalia on targets including The London Eye, Virgin trains and Morrisons supermarkets.

Clerics scurrying to prayers last week were horrified when they looked up and saw a huge SPUNK-SPURTING PHALLUS on the Cathedral's dome.

The cock measures somewhere between eight and 12-feet, though the exact dimensions are still to be assessed by cathedral conservators.

Peregrine Groot, chairman of the St Paul's and District Conservation Alliance swooned: "This is a ghastly crime akin to scrawling a cock and balls on Her Majesty the Queen's face.

Ghastly

"Whoever did it is sick in the head. I bet they would not have the guts to go and do this on a mosque, would they?

"Once again, the Church of England gets mugged and abused by the oiks."

Sir Christopher Wren's iconic basilica, completed in 1711, was built to replace the former St Paul's destroyed in the 1666 Great Fire of London.

CHILLY WILLY!

A PRANKSTER got shoppers giggling after drawing a giant penis on a frost-covered paved area in Queens Square, Crawley.

The joker used the frost that had formed on the area of fake grass in the centre of the square to create the fifteen-foot long member, complete with matching testicles.

One woman shopper, who asked not to be named, said: "I got a real shock when I saw it."

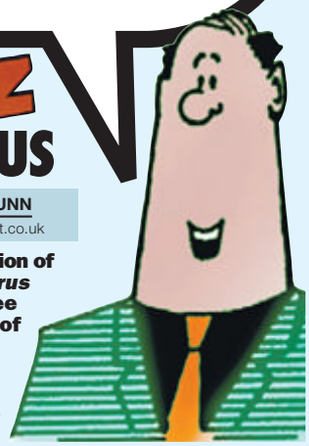
Take a ct hair off that and it'll fit like a finger up an arsehole!



IT'S THE Viz PROFANISAURUS

By JUSTIN DUNN
justin@sundaysport.co.uk

THE updated version of Viz's Profanisaurus comes with a free bumper booklet of OUTRAGEOUS descriptions.

The February edition of Viz with its free Profanisaurus selection is on sale now.

Aris tweed n. Tough, hard-wearing matted anal hair from which you could weave a pair of gamekeeper's trousers. Also glarsefibre.
Bacon slicer n. A metaphorical dieting apparatus. "Her off Emmerdale that was on Strictly, she could do with a go on the bacon slicer, your holiness."
Bobber job n. A buoyant Richard the Third that resolutely refuses to go down the shit pan, and which remains floating about no matter how many times you flush. A pond skater.

Chewbaca's knackers sim. An area of notably unkempt and overgrown gorilla salad. Named after Han Solo's badly-coiffed pet dog in the Star Wars films. "Bloody hell, I bet that Lorraine Kelly's clout's hairier than Chewbaca's knackers."

Chlorine cock n. medic. When visiting the public baths, a stiffening of the male member which is caused by the chemicals in the water.
Cockweb n. A post-ejaculatory gossamer thread of jipper between the trout's mouth and the thigh, upon which a fly might become ensared.
Ct hair n. An Imperial unit of measurement used in carpentry, equal to about three-sixteenths of a whiff-waff. "Just take a ct hair off that door, Steve, and it'll fit like a finger up an arsehole."

Femme brulee n. A creamy minge where you need a spoon to crack your way through the crispy topping.

Fitting a kitchen euph. Taking a week off work to indulge in a DIY marathon. "Dave, you look knackered mate considering you've just had a holiday." "I am Tom, I've had no rest at all. I've been fitting a kitchen."
Glamourpotamus n. A lady with a lovely personality who wears shitloads of make-up, fake tan and worryingly high heels.

Hangover piss n. Descriptive of the healthy, bronzed patina characteristic of the hide of Judith Chalmers, Des O'Connor and David Dickinson.

Mano a manhood n. Single-handed mortal combat with your old fella.
Peanus butter n. Harry monk.
Pink sock n. medic. Correct medical terminology for a rectal prolapse or arse tulip. "And now this giant Icelander just has to place the final Atlas Ball into place to take the title of World's Strongest Man… but what's this? I think he's pulling up. He's not happy. He's not happy at all. He's pulling up and he's making the signal that he's got the pink sock."

Polar bear's arm n. A fk-off bumper-size line of Bacon powder, of the sort typically enjoyed in the bogs of fashionable London clubs by sweating children's presenters. "And here's a polar bear's arm I snorted earlier. Get down, spiders!"

Preloved 1. adj. Of a second hand motor car on the point of a catastrophic mechanical failure. 2. adj. Descriptive of a woman who has been round the block a few times. And got fked by loads of different blokes while she was on her travels.
Rip in a bear's back n. A ragman's coat, butcher's dustbin, full Turkish, badly-packed kebab, beaver's guts, untidy sock drawer, a pork pie that's been trodden on or an octopus climbing out of a wetsuit.

Rusty panda n. Like a Dirty Sanchez, but using a two-handed rotary motion around the rusty panda's eyes.

Seen more Japs' eyes than a Toyota wing mirror exclaim. Said of a bird who's had more cocks than Davy Crockett's rifle.
Shawkshank n. A crap taken whilst flushing the Rick Witter, often to avoid embarrassment in a public restroom, much as the eponymous movie's protagonist Andy Dufresne uses a thunderstorm as cover for his own escape down a filthy, shite-filled pipe.

Smelling a rat n. The result of an insufficiently rigorous feminine daintiness regime. A tuna bake.

The dark knight rises 1. n. Batman film, featuring very little Batman and a lot of Tom Hardy speaking into a bucket. 2. exclam. Used when the speaker is about to hoy up an impressive quantity of Irish stout. "He waits. That's what he does. And I'll tell you what, tick followed tock followed tick followed tock followed tick. Ahab says, 'I don't care who you are. Here's to your dream.' And after eight pints the dark night rises."
Van Gogh's beard euph. The effect of enjoying a clam chowdown on a lady who's got the post impressionist painters in.

POSTMAN'S COCK!

Find the Phantom Letterbox Flasher

FUMING homeowner Liz Cooper says a twisted pervert has been giving her 'special deliveries'… by slipping his BELLEND through her letterbox!

The irate 36-year-old says she's spotted a willy being "jiggled around" through her door opening 12 times in the past three weeks.

So far she's been unable to apprehend the filthy fiend, as he flees when she yells out at him.

Now the IT worker is praying that he accidentally gets his dick caught in her flap.

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

The singleton, from Didsbury, in Greater Manchester, appealed to Sunday Sport for help, saying: "I heard the letterbox go and went out to pick up my post.

Jiggled

"But got to the hall I saw something weird. I looked harder and there it was, clear as day, a big hairy cock being jiggled around by its owner.

"I shrieked and ran into the living room. And since then it keeps happening ALL the time. I dream of the day he traps it in the flap. I hope he gets it chopped off, I really do."

Liz says that she's managed to glimpse the culprit on two occasions, describing him as a "typical scrote", wearing grey tracksuit bottoms, white trainers and a dark top with the hood pulled around his head.

Liz also confirmed that she's made an official complaint to the police.

She added: "Here's a warning to the little shit – I'm getting a dog from the shelter, and one that likes the taste of small todgers!"

THE PRONG BOX: Pervert has been shoving his dick through Liz's front door

Middle-classes becoming flashy

A SURGE in middle-class professionals turning to FLASHING is caused by STRESS, experts say.

Doctors, accountants, company directors and counsellors – most with loving families – have appeared in courts over recent months charged with committing indecent acts in public.

Spokesman for the Association of Psychotherapists Kyle MacDonald said for some of the men he had treated, the lewd acts had become an addiction to cope with pressures in their lives.

The New Zealand-based shrink said: "For anybody who has an addiction to something, the experience of engaging in the addictive behaviour is so intense that thoughts and stress disappear."

Top porn stars put charity fist

A GROUP of kindly porn stars took part in a FISTING session to help raise money for charity.

The bongo babes, led by Californian Mercedes Carrera, 32, held a live web cam show where punters were asked to donate to ogle certain taboo sex acts.

One punter paid $1,000 to see her take a pal's fisting virginity in aid of a schools charity.

ALLEGATIONS: Prince Andrew with Virginia Roberts

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

CONSPIRACY: Cr claims Diana's ca was due to rene

AN expert who says the Princess of Wales was murdered has warned that the woman who claims she had sex with Prince Andrew could face the same fate.

Conspiracy consultant Winston Carter insists that Princess Diana was killed by renegade MI5 agents working "on orders from the highest levels of the British Establishment".

And last night the 54-year-old former model shop owner said: "This young women, Virginia Roberts, who said she was forced to have sex with Prince Andrew while she was still a teenager, is in mortal danger.

"Rocking the Royal boat is a risky business. Princess Diana did it and look what happened to her. If I read in my newspaper that Virginia had been found dead, I would not be surprised.

"If and when she is 'bumped off' the assassins will make it look like an accident – as in the case of Diana – or make it look like Virginia took her own life.

"That's how these people work. They are experts – experts in the business of death."

Winston, of Huddersfield, West Yorks, spent hours in his local library assessing evidence collected after the Princess's death in 1997.

The accepted version is that Diana and her playboy lover Dodi Fayed died when their car, driven by drunken chauffeur Henri Paul, smashed into a tunnel wall in Paris.

Winston says Diana was murdered because she was about to get pregnant by Dodi – a descendant of the ancient Egyptian pharaohs.

Danger

He explained: "Any offspring from Diana and Dodi would have had a legitimate claim to the kingdoms of England and Egypt.

"That would have caused a diplomatic and constitutional crisis – Diana had to go." Although Winston's theory has been dismissed as "utter balderdash", that's not stopped him warning Virginia Roberts she is in danger.

He said: "The lovely young woman is in real peril. I'm happy to put her up at my place until the heat is off."

Any hope that Prince Andrew may have had that he could put the allegations behind him with a speech at the World Economic Forum in Davos last week were dashed when Ms Roberts made a series of lurid claims in her first sworn court statement. She said the Duke had a "sexual interest in feet", that she had sex with him while his protection officers sat in a car outside and that his friend Jeffrey Epstein, a convicted sex offender, "collected private information" about the Queen's son.

She also alleged that Prince Andrew had an orgy with nine teenage girls.

Ms Roberts, who now lives in Colorado with her husband and two children, claims to have had sex with the Duke on three occasions in 2001, when she was 17.

"I have seen Buckingham Palace's recent 'emphatic' denial that Prince Andrew had sexual contact with me," she said. "That denial is false and hurtful to me.

"I did have sexual contact with him as I have described here – under oath."

SUNDAY Sport SAYS...

WE have carefully studied the testimony of Winston Carter and have concluded that the man is a deluded fantasist with an advanced persecution complex.

Why then, have we reproduced his ramblings in our newspaper?

It is only because think it is our duty, as patriotic Britons, to warn our beloved Royals of the calumnies being uttered about them.

GRUMPY CAT IN SECRET SEX SCENE (Sort of...)

SAUCY: Aubrey in film (above) voiced Tardar

YOUR frown will be turned upside down when you clap eyes on internet sensation Grumpy Cat... baring her purr-fect BOOBS!

The moggie, called Tardar Sauce, became a web phenomenon when its U.S.-based owner Tabatha Bundesen shared pics of it looking permanently glum.

The pussy, said to be worth a cool £60m, even got its own Hollywood movie last year – Grumpy Cat's Worst Christmas Ever, starring actress Aubrey Plaza.

Brunette Aubrey voiced the pesky female feline.

And now the sexy thesp, 30, has got fans stroking their laps after she bared all for new film Ned Rifle, in which she's seen getting done DOGGY-style!

One admirer said: "I was grumpy before I saw Aubrey's knockers, now I'm like a cat who's got the cream."

Desperate Scousewives star & celeb blogger Jaiden Micheal write for Sunday Sport

I TOLD you all that Kavana would get bladdered and kick off! Fair enough, it's taken him a while but we are now starting to see the car crash CBB producers prayed for.

But I reckon they've got a lot more than they hoped because let's face it, it's a house full of train wrecks! The only sane people here are Michelle, Calum and Keith Chegwin.

Michelle's used to being surrounded by drag queens so I guess CBB is a walk in the park for her, seeing as she has Katie Price, Hopkins, Alicia and Cami-Li as company.

MY eyes and ears literally catch fire when I watch this show!

If it ain't Alicia asking everyone constantly "do you like me?" in her ridiculously draining voice, it's Perez prancing round with his back fat and maggot dick hanging out.

KATIE Price is now fave to win. But is that actual fave to win or have them lot over at Channel 5 fix it so that they can then make a load of spin off shows about 'Katie's World'?

Predictable. Katie has caused an uproar after talking to the other housemates about the cross-dressing and dildo habits of her ex, Alex Reid.

I think it's appalling how a grown woman can sit and laugh about this to other adults and mock as if Alex is vermin.

It's his body, his anus, and he should be able to do what he wants as long as he isn't committing a crime.

Let's be honest, we all enjoy a cheeky finger...

ON the subject of fingers, TOWIE star Ricky Rayment was spotted (and pictured) getting deep down and dirty with Geordie Shore's Marnie at the National Television Awards last week.

Ricky made a very public protest that he is over his ex, Jessica Wright, by his lascivious behaviour with the Newcastle lass. Ricky apparently snubbed Jess at the awards too. Maybe he didn't see her because he had his head literally down Marnie's gob?!

Come on Ricky mate, you can do better.

UPSETTING news for soap fans this week. Anne Kirkbride aka Deirdre Barlow passed away. The Corrie star, famous for her huge NHS glasses and husky cries of "Kennn", died aged just 60.

I met Anne a few times and she was such a lovely, classy lady. It's a huge loss to the soap.

Sad times.

THERE are three certainties in life – death, taxes and every man's fantasy of bedding UK glamour legend Jo Guest.

Arguably the ultimate topless model, Jo's later propensity for slipping her knickers down for top-shelf grumble mags entrenched her ever deeper into the sex-obsessed mind of the ordinary British male.

She's done the lot – cute girl next door photos, cheeky topless shots, fully naked lesbo shoots, almost-but-not-quite blowjob sequences, XXX orgy scenes and American-strength held-open pics.

Jo, originally from Chesterfield, Derbys, also appeared in FHM and Playboy video Shagalicious British Babes, and became a firm favourite in the pages of glossy adult mags like Whitehouse and Escort.

Her famously pert 36C boobs and tightly toned bum meant every teen lad had images of her stuffed under his bed.

And many still do. Sunday Sport Deputy Picture Editor Matt Simmonds said: "Jo Guest? I've mucked more socks over her than I've had hot discount dinners.

"In my younger years I was knocking one out about seven or eight times a day, and 90% of the time over pictures of Jo."

Now 42, Jo has retired from glamour modelling and looks after animals at her home in Bournemouth.

In 2008 it was confirmed that she was suffering from fibromyalgia – a debilitating condition that causes fatigue, stiffness and soreness.

But Jo still wows fans via her Facebook page – often dressing up in saucy outfits to give lads a welcome blast from the past!

Mile High handjob lands pair in court

A WOMAN accused of wanking off a man on a plane used a coat to cover up her frisky deed, a court heard.

Alicia Elizabeth Lander, 25, pleaded not guilty to committing indecent acts, assaulting a police officer, and causing a disturbance on the flight between Toronto and Halifax in Canada,

John Dunn, service director for Air Canada Flight 610, testified that Lander had asked if she could change seats to sit with her friend.

Dunn said about an hour into the flight, a passenger told him the people in 14A and 14B were about to join the "Mile High Club".

He testified that he approached Lander and the man and found them with a jacket over their laps.

Dunn said Lander's hand was in the area of the man's crotch making an up-and-down motion.

He notified the captain, who arranged to have police meet them on landing.

Jason George Chase, 39, pleaded guilty to committing an indecent act.

Chase's lawyer says he'll seek a conditional discharge and his case has been adjourned until March 27.

It's not clear whether Lander and Chase knew each other prior to the incident.

The trial continues.

HE'S GETTING HIS ENDER-WAY!

Albert Square star's secret sex scene

BEAUTY AND B-EAST: Jill stars as Emma's mum in the morbid soap

VIEWERS with a morbid aversion to happiness will be following the latest storyline on the BBC soap EastEnders.

Ian Beale's daughter Lucy has apparently, been murdered.

Policewoman Emma Summerhayes, played by Anna Acton, discovered who the killer was whilst also having an affair with snarling slaphead Max Branning – then she died after being hit by Roxy Mitchell's car.

EastEnders has a higher body count than a Philippines ferry disaster but still people tune in.

Last week we were treated to the copper's funeral. There's nothing that the Albert Square lot like more than a coffin.

By BARNEY SAMUELS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Among the mourners for WPC Summerhayes was her mother, played by actress Jill Baker.

Now 62, Jill appeared in the 1989 BBC Screen One drama Blore MP.

Jill plays the MP's wife and the man she is bescuttled with here, played by actor Stephen Moore, is not her hubby.

Topless women – even from long ago telly plays – are more fun that EastEnders any day.

Michelle fanny scat web hell

STUNNING Michelle Keegan has come under a Twitter siege again – with one tormented follower wanting to a picture of her POO!

The gorgeous 27-year-old had taken to the social networking site to inform her 2.75m followers that she finally finished filming her new BBC series Ordinary Lies.

First she tweeted a picture of the show's cast – which includes funnyman Jason Manford – with the words "It's a wrap!"

Then she followed up with a secondary tweet saying "Can't wait for you guys to see it xxx"

But two of her scamp followers took the opportunity to throw in cheeky comments.

"Steve", tweeting as @MadeOfStone7, piped up "Your fanny?"

While @adoputson91 said, "Please tell me your taking a poo selfie xxxx".

One production source said: "People have to remember that sticking your head into Twitter is akin to sticking it down into the flowing sewer."

UNDER SIEGE: Michelle got sent disgusting tweets

DEANO ON SUNDAY

LAST week I mentioned that the Green Party were bonkers. Since then, I've learned more about what they plan for Britain.

This includes decriminalising membership of Al Qaeda and possession of heroin, banning horse racing over jumps, compulsory vegetarianism, £71-a-week state cash for everyone – no questions asked – uncontrolled immigration, abolition of the armed forces, compulsory educational TV shows at prime time and zero-growth economy.

And still people want to vote for them.

What a shame they closed all the asylums.

TWO mothers became embroiled in a bitter battle over an invoice handed to one of their sons for missing the other's birthday party.

Tanya Walsh and her partner Derek Nash were appalled when their son Alex, five, arrived home from school with a £15.95 bill for missing his classmate Charlie Lawrence's big day at a local ski centre.

After refusing to pay, Alex's parents were then threatened that they would be taken to court.

Do you ever get the impression that Britain is losing perspective?

Thank goodness for the Russians, that's all I can say. Once they start dropping bombs on us, we should start to get our priorities better aligned.

Harriet's 'beware' speech backfires

DEPUTY leader Harriet Harman said ladies should "beware" of UKIP – which tolerated "appalling" anti-female remarks and offered a policy platform that was "bad for women".

An attack from Harriet Hatchetperson?

That should be worth at least five points in the polls for Mr Farage.

Captain Underpants is a right Blunt

LABOUR MP Chris Bryant – who once posed on a gay dating website in just his underpants – sparked something of a row with pop singer James Blunt.

Undies-posing Bryant, a former Church of England priest, suggested there were a few too many posh folk in the performing arts.

He said: "I am delighted that Eddie Redmayne won [a Golden Globe for best actor], but we can't just have a culture dominated by Eddie Redmayne and James Blunt and their ilk."

Private

By "their ilk" Bryant – of internet underpants fame – meant people who have been to private schools.

This provoked a very angry response from James Blunt.

Always good to see an online spat. If nothing else, it fills a lot of space in newspapers very cheaply.

PANTS: Bryant (left) made comments about Blunt (below)

But if an MP complained about, say, sprinting being "dominated" by Afro-Caribbean people or of musical theatre being "dominated" by gay people there would – quite rightly – be uproar.

So why is Bryant – who was 41 fking years of age when he posed on the internet in his underpants – allowed to use such language about a certain social class of people?

It seems Labour are all for minority groups, but only the minority groups they like.

THUMB FUN: Sexy star Audrey

AFTER recent events in France where the police there have proved themselves to have bollocks of solid brass, Frog cop drama Spiral seems pretty tame by comparison.

But I'm still gripped by the BBC4 programme and that's in no small part thanks to the gorgeous Audrey Fleurot.

My schoolboy French is not brilliant but here goes: "Je voudrais mettre mon pouce dans son cul avant."

NICE BOOBS FOR A ROBOT!

BARED: Swede babe flashes the flesh

Star of new movie Ex Machina is topless

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

SCI-FI fans are looking forward to Ex Machina – the latest film to explore the well-trodden path of artificial intelligence.

It stars Domhnall Gleeson as computer programmer Caleb, who falls in love with a robot called Ava – played by 26-year-old actress Alicia Vikander.

Revealing

But the Swedish babe looked even more lovely in the 2011 movie The Crown Jewels when she stripped off for a dip in a lake, revealing her pert Nordic breasts.

One Swedish fan said: "Shern de shern de herf! Sher de chicky en de farney hug."

Melon Man is off the rails!

A MAN who catches the train with a MASSIVE WATERMELON on his head has become an internet sensation.

The fruity fella (pictured right) can be regularly seen catching the underground sporting a hollowed-out melon – with eye and mouth holes – lodged on his bonce.

Aside from the crazy headwear, he dresses normally and has been seen in jeans, a jacket and carrying a backpack.

Locals have named him "Watermelon Brother" and have shared their creepy encounters with him.

Some passengers in Beijing, China, were left frightened after encountering him and notified subway staff, who called the police. One passenger said: "It was so scary last night when I was on the metro.

"This guy was just hanging around on the train wearing a watermelon mask, with a beer bottle in his hand.

"Apparently, he was totally drunk."

Grope girl flashes boobs outside court

GUILTY: Lynn Birch

A WOMAN who flashed her BOOBS outside court has been warned she faces jail, after admitting she GROPED a taxi driver.

Lynn Birch, 40, whipped her top up to reveal her bare breasts to a newspaper photographer as she left Rotherham Magistrates' Court, telling him: "You can put this on Page 3!"

By LAUREN PROBERT
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Birch, from Rotherham, South Yorks, admitted sexually assaulting a taxi driver on September 10 last year.

Rubbed

She told him she wanted SEX, invited him into her flat, rubbed her breast and groped his TESTICLES.

Birch also offered to sell the services of other ladies for £100-an-hour.

As she walked down the court steps after sentencing was adjourned, she spotted a reporter and photographer from a local newspaper and flashed her breasts at the newsmen.

Judge Jonathan Taaffe told Birch: "This is a serious matter – a sexual assault on a taxi driver doing his public duty.

"The fact that it is female-on-male does not lessen the seriousness of it in any way and I will consider all options, including custody."

Birch was released on bail until sentencing on February 12.

World Magazines

BRITAIN'S GRUMPIEST COLUMNIST

Les Miserable

MAYOR of London Boris Johnson made a brief visit to Iraq this week, in an attempt to rally the troops.

What was the fking point of that then?

Imagine you're a highly trained fighting machine, permanently ready to kill or be killed at any given moment. Then a jeep pulls up with what looks like a cross between an albino bear and bean bag in it.

It gets out and starts mumbling and chortling at you.

If you had any sense, you'd ID it as some kind of enemy booby trap and fill it full of lead.

But no – your commanding officer insists that you get your photo taken with it instead.

Fk off back to London and concentrate on getting rid of all the rats, Johnson, you bumbling prick.

BRITAIN's very best fish and chip shop was announced last week, which is great news for me as there's nothing I love more than cod and chips.

The winning chippy is the northernmost one, in the Shetland Isles.

What a waste of time, energy and a fking award. Piss off.

A TEAM of 20 people spent four days this week creating a piece of moving art so vast that it could be seen from space.

Some people think that's amazing – me, I think it's even more pointless than going to the Shetlands for a chip butty.

Who are these cts who are coming up with this shit, and why don't they think about maybe volunteering down their local food bank instead?

They should be taken up into space to see their 'moving art' and then dropped on the fker.

Wankers!

THE big talk at the Paris fashion show of Rick Owens last week was all about cocks.

He got his male models to wear clothes so skimpy that their flaccid members were visible for all to see.

They probably got paid thousands of pounds to expose themselves publicly like that – come down to my local on giro day and my mate Disgusting Ray will dip his in his own pint and then drink it for a packet of dodgy fags from down Macedonia way.

BOTTLE BANK HOOKER CHARGES JUST A FIVER FOR SEX ACT...

'I'm the ALDI of working girls'

THEATRE OF FILTH: Glenda's unlovely lodgings

BARGAIN BUNK-UPS: Glenda's services won't hit you in the pocket

A HOOKER who lives in a bottle bank and fellates men for the bargain basement price of £5 last night declared herself the "Aldi of working girls".

By SIMON DEAN
simon@sundaysport.co.uk

Emulating the strategy of the German-owned supermarket chain, Glenda Travis declared: "People are sick of paying over the odds for a nosh.

"What I provide is exactly the same product with the self-same result, just in a slightly different packaging."

Aldi and its sister chain Lidl have exploded onto the British retail scene by selling high quality groceries – often sourced from European suppliers –at low prices.

Minge

Glenda, who rather optimistically gave her age as 27, said: "OK, I may not wear the latest fashions and turn up at top hotels reeking of expensive perfumes, but I do the business as well as any Mayfair courtesan servicing Arab princes for a king's ransom."

The economy hooker has lived in the disused bottle bank in Wolverhampton for two years and sees to her ablutions in the toilets of a nearby shopping centre.

She said: "I keep clean, especially my minge and that. What more do you need?"

Glenda's client base is certainly wide.

She explained: "I get all sorts down here, from posh businessmen to unemployed blokes who come down on giro day for a bit of a thrill.

"They all get the same service. It's a fiver for a nosh, a tenner for full sex and 15 for anal or watersports and that."

One client, who asked not to be identified said: "There are plenty of working girls in the greater Wolverhampton area who complain of foreign incomers takings their tricks.

"Glenda has embraced the economic realities and cut her cloth accordingly.

"OK, you would not take her on your arm as an escort to a civic function but if you want to squirt your muck, she's the lass for you.

"She does cracking bum tricks, an' all."

Yeti witness: Beast was no neighbour!

A SCOTS woman who is adamant she saw a Yeti in a car park near her home in Dundee is furious that the authorities are not taking her report seriously.

Charmaine Fisher, 41, is campaigning for emergency services to be better trained after they dismissed her claims.

She has now gone public on her sighting and wants people to help her prove the existence of the mysterious creatures.

Charmaine, who has a psychology degree from St Andrews University, said the creature was 7ft tall, black with no neck and broad shoulders and was "like a gorilla standing upright".

She added: "My reports of seeing a monster were not taken seriously and dismissed as it probably being a neighbour!"

AWESOME Amy Green always manages to look sexy – especially in the BATH!

The Sheffield stunna, who has all-natural 32D boobs, says she keeps her slinky skin in shape by soaping and moisturising every inch of her naked body.

The slinky lovely, 26, said: "Who doesn't love a good soak in the bath? I like to take my time, making sure every nook and cranny gets a good wash."

The blonde minx also has a talent that keeps her lucky fella smiling – deep throating.

She admitted: "I can fit a whole banana down my throat!

BRITAIN'S SWEARIEST COLUMNIST

HOLY SH*T!

IT'S Sunday, a day for quiet reflection and prayer. And who better to spend it with than Britain's first – and only – Tourette's vicar, the Reverend Edward Regis?

Despite being born with Tourette's – a condition that forces the cleric to swear – Rev Eddie fulfilled his dream of becoming a minister.

He's a man with a lot to say about what is happening in the world, despite his affliction. And Sunday Sport has made a vow to publish his Godly views – UNCENSORED and UNCUT!

King was – turd-pop! – behead of the pack

WELL – bitchchess! – King Abdullah of Saudi Arabia has passed.

Shockface turd-pop!

Of course, where he's passed to – ct! – is anyone's guess.

Poopy-piss yaks!

Provided my opinion – dicks! – counts for anything.

Baders!

As a man of the cloth.

Pookeks! Spankles!

I can't help but think it's a shame.

Rutting cakheap!

That he – Wagtrollop! – died.

To be fair – yakroast! – he was a bit of a one, what with all of that beheading.

Schism fk-jizz!

But he was someone's dad.

Camelfk!

Then again, – poo! – even dads let you down eventually, don't they?

Soulgash fagster!

Especially when – *sh*tbags!* – they rule a country that beheads women – tosspots! – and flogs journalists!

Squashpants!

I guess what I am trying to say is this – spano!

Bado-tampons!

Remember your king.

Pooga!

But stop beheading people.

Twatfk! Highway! Bitchmess!

Praise be for – assfelch! – little 'uns

WE'VE all heard of David and Goliath.

Bigpant mo-fo!

That eternal – jizzsoap! – story of a little bloke against a big bloke.

Cting bitchmole!

Let me – cakker! – break this down.

Assfelch mingesuck!

We all have our heroes – supercthole! – and villains.

Shagfagstermuntyar!

It's never easy to work those difficult questions out – boohole! – but every now and again – spamsucker! – things get simple.

Drunkybitchshag!

And you can't argue with a scoreline – pugfk! – can you?

Tampax-pool-sags!

The Mighty U's 0, Man U nil.

Bottom-cling yakbackfettle!

Pixie does not – muff! – do a Lott

PIXIE Lott is on the telly all the time.

Toned belly-hump!

I don't know why.

Dribble!

She's a good looking woman, no mistake.

Yakbutter! Waqster!

But I am not sure what she – poo! – actually does.

Muff!

THERE's been a lot of talk about the contestants in Celebrity Big Brother.

*W*nkfuges! Bagfad! Saddo-lap!*

So, why not move on?

Lepso-poy!

Mine's a – mingebasket! – glamourous job

FOLK often say to me, why did you become a vicar?

Warfhex!

There's reasons about vocation and the calling.

Cakfingers! Gasher!

But it's also about the outfit.

Ratter! Picker!

Any vicar who tells you different – hummus! – is a liar.

Insofar that vicars can be liars!

*Sh*thole minge-basket!*

But seriously folks – dykefist! – it's a glamourous job.

Waggo-diaper! Pube-beard! Snatch!

Say what you like about us vicars.

Pantie-official!

We think you're tops!

Bless-twats!

FAVE FILM: Gone Girl

FIRST-TIME SEX

TAYLOR: Mine was nice. It was with my boyfriend, but it wasn't planned. It was just a natural progression and it felt right. It wasn't great because I didn't know what I was doing – and neither did he!
JO: Mine was all right but I was nervous. He was just out of a long-term relationship.
TAYLOR: So you pounced on him and took advantage when he was feeling low?!
JO: No! It was a spur of the moment thing. But it was good.

WORST BONK

TAYLOR: When I was travelling I had a one-night stand with a good-looking Aussie guy.
It didn't live up to expectations and his pal was banging on the door to come in – so I was like, "Goodbye".
JO: My worst sex was when my parents heard us at it. It really ruined the moment!

WILLY SIZE

TAYLOR: I think it has a lot to do with girth. What do you think?
JO: You need both girth and length. And he needs to know what to do with it.
TAYLOR: I would want at least seven inches, to be honest.
JO: Five and seven inches is fine for me.

OUTDOOR ACTION

JO: I have done it in a field and on a beach in the summer. Both times was with my boyfriend, but on the beach we could see the stars – it was all really very romantic.
We once went skinny-dipping and when we got out of the sea we thought someone had come along and stolen our clothes, because they had gone.
But they had just been scattered across the beach by the wind.
TAYLOR: I've had sex in the woods near my mum's house. We did it there because she was indoors and we had no where else to go.
JO: When we were shagging on that beach someone walked right past us. He was on top so all they would have been able to see was his bum!
Every time I've had sex outdoors I've been tipsy. It gives you more confidence.

JO: I've only had one-night stands since coming to uni. It's easier to get away with – and not see them again.
TAYLOR: During Freshers' Week?
JO: Yes – everyone's really up for it then. One-offs are OK, but sometimes if you're too pissed you can't remember their faces – or if you had full sex.

BUM FUN

TAYLOR: If you take your time and get really relaxed with lots and lots of foreplay, it's quite a nice thing to try.
I've only tried it a couple of times – with long-term partners – and we always used plenty of lube. I orgasmed really hard once, when his willy was inside my bottom and he was massaging my clit at the same time.
JO: I've done it but it was too painful at the time. I think his cock was too big for my little bumhole.
TAYLOR: That's the thing that puts me off going with two guys at the same time. They would probably want to do both holes, but I really hate the thought of that.

ORAL SKILLS

JO: Do you reckon it's true that semen is really good for your skin?

JO: I tend to only do it with boyfriends but sometimes if there is no where to spit out the jizz, I swallow.

DRESSING UP

TAYLOR: I've never dressed up as a sexy college girl or anything like that. But I have worn a corset, with stockings and suspenders.
JO: I only wear nice underwear.
TAYLOR: Me and my boyfriend live apart so I often text him saucy pictures. When he comes to see me in my student house I dress up for him.

THREESOMES

JO: I'd like to try one.

FAKING IT

JO: I have never faked an orgasm in my life – what's the point?
I was with my last boyfriend for two and a half years and he always brought me off, every time we had sex.
I've never had one just through penetrative sex though. It's usually through oral stimulation – or while he's inside me and one of us is playing with my clitoris.
I'm getting horny talking about it!
TAYLOR: I wouldn't fake an orgasm either because I don't want to inflate the man's ego.
If I did, he would think he could make me orgasm too easily.
JO: My boyfriend I am with now is a very generous and sensitive lover.
And he's hung like a bloody Grand National winner – which helps, too!

To see my fella with another girl would really turn me on

ONE-NIGHT STANDS

TAYLOR: I've only had one. The guy I slept with when I was travelling. I have always been in a relationship. I've had two very short-term relationships where I got off with someone and then met them again for sex later that week. I wouldn't call them one-night stands.

TAYLOR: I don't know – I once let an ex spurt his load all over my face, and I rubbed it in for ages afterwards.
But I don't remember seeing a massive difference in my complexion. So it call all be bollocks.
I never used to swallow with my old boyfriend but I do with my latest one because I know he loves it.

TAYLOR: Me too – with two guys.
JO: I'd want a lad and another girl. To see my boyfriend having sex with another red-hot girl while I was there would be a huge turn-on.
TAYLOR: I would rather it be with single people on a one-night stand.

THAT'S THE WAY TWO GO, JENNY!

By JUSTIN DUNN
justin@sundaysport.co.uk

SOME girls make you want to drop to your trembling knees to sob tears of grateful thanks.

Especially girls like gorgeous Jenny Laird, who tells us what a VERY generous beauty she can be!

For Jenny, 25, from Tamworth, Staffs, who sports eye-popping 3DD boobs, doesn't just let one guy spill his man-juice all over her – she's lets TWO at the same time!

She explained: "I was having a threesome with two guys I know and one of them asked if he could come on me.

"I said it was fine, and then the other guy said he wanted to as well – so they both stood over me and had a w*nk.

"They timed it pretty well as they managed to ejaculate at the same time. It was just like a creamy shower – and it was really funny!"

Welcome to the world famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice or experience than our own Agony Angels! This week Krystal has been reading your letters. Here's her advice...

Dear Krystal,

I'M a 33-year-old painter and decorator and I was grafting at my boss's new house the other week while his wife was there.

When she nipped out to the shops, I went upstairs and had a good old rummage through her knicker drawer.

But she came back unexpectedly and caught me having a wank in her bedroom, with one of her thongs pressed to my face.

She was furious and told me that she was going to phone her husband and he'd sack me on the spot!

I pleaded with her to keep schtum but she said if I wanted to keep my job I had to be punished.

I was desperate, so I agreed.

So she put me over her knee, with my pants pulled down to expose my naked arse, and whacked me with a plastic hairbrush.

Now she wants me to nip round once a week for more of the same.

Should I go along with her plan?

RW, Avon

Krystal says...

THIS is blackmail – look for another job and then tell her to go fk herself.

Dear Krystal,

ME and an old mate have always had a thing about women with "blowjob lips".

Over the years we'd stand in the pub and ogle women with large mouths and fantasise that they were clamped round our bulbous bell-ends.

Nothing ever came of it – except for one night in Manchester's gay village, which I'd rather not go in to.

Should I tell my sexually-boring wife about my oral desires?

NM, Worcs

Krystal says...

WHY not treat her to a long, sensual oral sex session – then ask her to return the favour?

It takes two to tango!

Shop romp with babe is shoe-in!

Dear Krystal,

I WORK in a shoe shop and one day a week the manager leaves me in charge.

Recently I was just about to close up for the day when a very pretty and well-dressed woman came in.

She was about 35 – 15 years older than me – tall, slim and very sophisticated looking.

She quizzed me about some shoes we had on display in the window so I asked her to take a seat while I fetched them for her.

They were a red, strappy sandal and when I got back with them she'd already slipped off her own shoes to reveal her pretty pink toes set off with dark red nail polish.

She wasn't wearing tights – or stockings – and as I lifted her foot to try on the first shoe I couldn't help but admire her long, tanned legs.

I must have hesitated slightly and she caught me looking at her.

But she didn't seem to mind and smiled knowingly at me as she then wriggled her well-rounded bottom on the seat and very slowly parted her silky thighs.

I let out an excited gasp of surprise at the sight that met my eyes – she wasn't wearing any panties, and I was staring at her shaven pussy!

Then she said: "How does it look?"

Letter of the day

I said that the shoe was an excellent fit.

"No, silly," she said. "I mean my ct. I shaved it for the first time this morning."

Well, I was totally speechless.

But then she said that if I locked up the shop I could have a closer look.

I didn't need to be asked twice, as I dashed to the front door, bolted it top and bottom and turned the 'open' sign around.

Then I led her to the storeroom at the back of the shop and she quickly unzipped my trousers to release my aching cock.

She sank to her knees and took me between her lips, slowly licking and teasing the purple tip.

After a couple of minutes she stood up and slid off her skirt.

Then she bent over a table and parted her pissflaps.

That's when I got behind her and tried HER on for size – banging away until she was squealing with ecstasy.

Now she calls in every week when the boss is away because she says that I'm the best thing that fits her in the shop!

Could I get into trouble for closing up early?

JS, Cambs

Krystal says...

IF the boss ever catches you out, tell her it's just good customer relations!

Dear Krystal,

I'M having an affair with our babysitter and my thick wife doesn't suspect a thing.

I'm 27, the missus is 29 and the babysitter is 19, with pert tits and a tight pussy.

She's quite experienced for a teen, and I have been shagging her for six months.

She lets me do anything I want with her, which is more than the ball and chain does.

The wife believes everything I tell her – that's how I can enjoy my cake and eat it!

We go out twice a week, and while she's getting ready me and the babysitter have a quickie.

We make love all over the house, even in bed while the wife is in the bath.

Do you think she knows, and is just turning a blind eye?

Krystal says...

YOU'RE playing with fire, matey. If she DOES catch you two at it, you'll be out on your arse – be warned!

Dear Krystal,

I HAVE a thing about busty blondes in bikinis on beaches, and my favourite has always been Pam Anderson.

Back in the day, I was always glued to Baywatch on the telly for that reason, and I have all the shows on DVD now.

When I asked my dumpy brunette wife to go blonde, have a boob job, and suggest we move to Newquay, she went ape.

How can I get my way?

JD, via email

Krystal says...

SOUNDS like you're married to the wrong woman. If she's not prepared to change her looks and move house for you, ask for a divorce.

ONCE upon a time a trip to the sperm test clinic involved a little cup and a 10-year-old copy of Razzle.

But thanks to market reforms in the National Health Service, hospitals are free to employ different measures to encourage you to chuck your muck.

At the most prestigious establishments, the doctor will be as hot as a steam iron – and will suck the seed directly from your straining bollocks herself.

God bless the good old NHS!

RABBITS 'DON'T BREED LIKE RABBITS'

Expert slams Pope

THE Pope might know a thing or two about morality – and even family planning.

But he doesn't know the first thing about rabbits, a man who breeds rodents has claimed.

Erwin Leowsky, president of the Central Association of German Rabbit Breeders, said he wants to set the record straight about rabbits and their sexual proclivities – regardless of what the Pope tells the world.

During a recent visit to the Philippines, Pope Francis said Catholics are not required to procreate "like rabbits".

PRINCIPLES: Pope Francis

By BRIAN OPTION
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Fatherhood

"Some people believe to be good Catholics, we need to be like rabbits," Francis said in a press conference on the plane back to Rome.

The pontiff pointed to the principle of "responsible fatherhood," recalling he recently scolded a woman in a church who was expecting her eighth child after undergoing seven Caesarean births.

But Leowsky says not all rabbits are busy breeders and that such behaviour can only be attributed to wild animals.

Domesticated beasts usually breed under controlled circumstances.

Leowsky added: "He should maybe think about doing away with those kinds of figures of speech and instead let people use birth control.

"By my opinion, that would be more useful than firing off dumb sayings like that."

FIGHTING TALK: Scott Quigg has thrown down the gauntlet to Frampton (inset)

QUIGG FRAMPS UP THE HEAT

WBA champion Scott reckons his big rival would be easy meat

SCOTT QUIGG has got arch-rival Carl Frampton boiling by claiming he would be the EASIEST world champion to beat.

The Bury man holds the WBA "regular" super-bantamweight crown, the division's best is WBA "super" champion Guillermo Rigondeaux and Mexican Leo Santa Cruz is WBC king in a white-hot 122lb division.

Quigg is currently sidelined with an injury, but hopes for a summer pay-per-view unification showdown against Frampton, the IBF title holder.

He said: "I rate him as a fighter, I think he's very good, but I 100 per cent believe I beat him in every department.

"It's a real possibility. Frampton and the McGuigans are their own people, they aren't tied down to anyone.

"That's the biggest fight for me, it's the biggest fight for him – and I guarantee 100 per cent I'd beat him.

"Out of Frampton, Santa Cruz and Rigondeaux, Frampton stylistically will be the easiest fight for me.

EXCLUSIVE

"My best beats his best and it's perfect timing – we're both world champions. The time is right for it."

Frampton is currently preparing for his IBF defence against mandatory challenger Chris Avalos in Belfast on February 28.

The Irishman won his title last September with a 12-round points thrashing of Spaniard Kiko Martinez, and would start favourite against Quigg.

But he scoffed at Quigg's comments, saying: "He has been doing this for years.

"I say something in an interview and he just repeats it a few weeks later.

"I said recently that he was my easiest fight for the biggest purse, and that included fights with Rigondeaux, Santa Cruz and Avalos.

"He's been copying me for years. He really should start saying something original. I suppose imitation is the greatest form of flattery."

I'll Hammer Fury dream

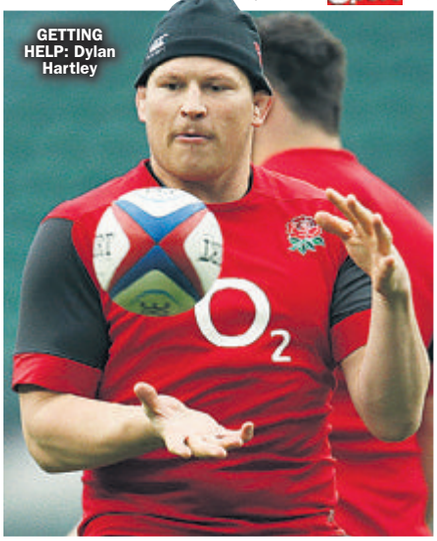
CHRISTIAN HAMMER has promised to cause a huge upset and wreck Tyson Fury's dream world title fight against Wladimir Klitschko.

The hard-hitting WBO No.3-ranked challenger takes on Fury at London's O2 Arena on February 28.

Manchester traveller Fury is risking his unbeaten record, European and WBO International titles and – crucially – his WBO mandatory spot to Klitschko.

Hammer said: "I've seen Tyson fight plenty of times and he's a very good boxer, but nothing I've seen worries me at all. And his talking makes him sound like a clown."

Fury is a guaranteed a world title fight later this year, provided he keeps winning.



GETTING HELP: Dylan Hartley

Dylan sees shrink for anger issue

RUGBY UNION

DYLAN HARTLEY has been getting ANGER MANAGEMENT in a bid to curb his temper and save his England future.

Former England captain Lewis Moody revealed Hartley has turned to sports shrinks to beat the red mist that has blighted his Test career.

Hartley's red card and three-match ban for elbowing Matt Smith against Leicester in December took his total career suspensions to 50 weeks, adding to lay-offs for eye-gouging, biting, punching and swearing. Moody cites psychology sessions in 2005 for cementing his international career following a red card for brawling in England's 40-3 victory over Samoa.

"I know Dylan's been seeing a psychologist," Moody said. "I did the same in 2005 and it worked wonders for me.

"When you find the red mist descending, you distract yourself.

"I made sure my first move in future would be to look at the referee, as my next action would be decided by him.

"That process meant that, after 2005, I never had another yellow or red card in my career."

Concern

Hartley said he didn't need professional help after his red card in the 2013 Premiership final for swearing at the ref.

England coach Stuart Lancaster warned he was on his "last chance" with the national side after that sending-off, but selected him in his Six Nations squad this week.

World Cup winner Moody added: "There is a concern over his temperament, but that said, Dylan is a very physical, competitive, forward who you always want in your team.

"It's just at what point does Stuart say, 'Right, your behaviour is now costing the team'?

"There's got to be a way for him to control his emotions and to be able to control them.

"I'd hate for him to have any more incidents or his England career to be cut short because of something he did."

JOHNSON WON'T BE HELD BACK

CRICKET

AUSTRALIA coach Darren Lehmann says he has no intention of saving Mitchell Johnson for a World Cup assault on England and will recall the paceman as soon as possible.

Johnson, who has missed the last few weeks with fitness niggles and undisclosed personal reasons, was the man of the series in last winter's Ashes.

But Lehmann insists he won't hold back his key strike bowler for the tournament opener in Melbourne on Feb 14.

He said: "Mitchell will be close for Monday's Tri-Series match against India.

"He'll be full training on Sunday. There's no resting.

"We can't worry about England, we can only worry about what we're doing."

BRIGHT CLOUDS

STAR: Many Clouds

Many makes light work of rivals

By BOOKIE BASHER

MANY CLOUDS showed class and bravery to win the BetBright Cup Chase at Doncaster.

Oliver Sherwood's Hennessy hero added to his sizeable Newbury haul in November with a superb round of fencing under Leighton Aspell.

Smad Place and Dynaste gave chase late on, but Many Clouds (4-1) had enough in reserve to keep the former at bay by a length and a quarter.

"He's improved again," said Aspell.

"At Newbury he gave his all, the tank was empty and we weren't sure.

"He looked fantastic and he trained fantastic but you just never know.

"He gave me a lovely ride round.

"He's intelligent and spots his fences and he's quick over them.

"If he had finished third or fourth I would have been happy, but that was a lovely performance.

"We love this horse."

Bookmakers were quick to react, with Many Clouds now available at around the 12-1 mark for the Gold Cup on March 13.

Sherwood said: "He got into a really good rhythm and jumped super right through the race.

"He was dossing a little bit up the run-in – he was in front for a long time – but we know he gets the trip really well.

"It was important to come here and get him some experience of Cheltenham.

"I'm so pleased he's won as it's my first winner at this track since the Greatwood in 2000 with Hulysse Royal.

"It's great to have that monkey off my back.

"The dream is still alive. My job now is to get him back here in one piece for March."

DOG LEADS

Dinzeo can cause upset

THE Partex Marking Systems Prestige worth £6,000 to-the-winner is at Hall Green on Tuesday.

I'm taking Harry Crapper to cause an upset with Dinzeo available at 7/1.

I was very impressed with his second in the heats, he looked out when he hit trouble at the second-bend but showed great pace to come back to hit the front.

He was eventually beaten a short-head but I think this Sheffield raider can improve significantly on that effort and is a live contender to take this quality event.

HARRY CRAPPER ON DINZEO:

"He ran a brilliant race in the heats and we are all thrilled he's in the final. My heart was in my mouth at the second-bend but he showed real pace to get back in to the race.

"He was eventually touched off but I'm expecting improvement. That was his first six-bend race for a while so we will arrive at the final hopeful. There are six railers in to the final but I'm delighted with trap-three, no excuses on the draw.

"I'd like to congratulate Partex Marking Systems for their great sponsorship and their efforts of increasing the prize-money to £6,000 deserves to be applauded."

Harry Dinzeo goes in the last leg of the massive Tote Jackpot with an estimated pool of £500,000 plus, should punters have Dinzeo on their tickets? 'My advice is don't leave him out'.

Is Ginola really the answer to FIFA problems?

I'M not sure what worries me more – the recent emergence of the Green Party or David Ginola running for FIFA presidency.

We certainly need a shake-up on both counts, what with the clowns running the country and our beloved game.

But would we simply be replacing Coco with Ronald McDonald?

Both have decent ideas in principle, but they also have some crazy plans too.

The Greens want to protect our environment, while the silver-haired shampoo-selling smooth-talker wants the men's and women's games brought closer together by running concurrent World Cups.

On the flipside, the tree-hugging tofu-chompers are talking of legalising drugs, brothels, extremism and bringing in a "Beyonce Tax".

Ginola, meanwhile, wants to restore faith and trust in FIFA.

Oh David, you had to go too far didn't you? Who the hell is going to believe that?

IT looks like Manchester United manager Louis van Gaal (right) is in need of a translator before he gets himself into bother.

After his Dutch adaptation turned Fergie's "squeaky bum" catchphrase into "twitchy ass", it's only a matter of time before he tells a press conference that his side have run their cocks off or been fked up the shitter by a bad refereeing decision.

He needs someone to capture the essence of the point he's trying to make but retain his Dutch charm.

Can I recommend Steve McClaren for the job?

I HAVE you heard the one about the three Masons?

It's nothing to do with funny handshakes. Footballing brothers Dan, Barry and Byron of non-league Sholing FC made history last week when they became the first trio of siblings to score for the same team in a game.

I wouldn't mind three different players scoring in a MONTH for my mob Millwall at the moment.

SMART MART IS THE REAL DEAL

NEW wonder-kid Martin Odegaard has got what it takes to be a footballing sensation.

His dad recalls the time he was training with him when he was eight and when they were supposed to be finished, he refused to go home until he'd had 50 more shots.

Sounds like most of our young English stars in Sugar Lounge last Friday night.

The transfer fee that took Odegaard (left) from Stromsgodset to Real Madrid is around £2.3million.

Championship side Birmingham, meanwhile, have turned down around £3m for their young star Demarai Gray (right) from Bournemouth.

That's right folks, America give their kids guns, while in Blighty, seaside town teams play fast and loose with megabucks.

It'll all end in tears.

SO the Saudi King Abdullah died this week.

I hear after the news broke, lots of Saudis went out and got lashed.

And they were just the bloggers who said something bad about the regime.

Despite the crazy country's shocking record on human rights, David Cameron has flown over there to pay his respects.

I get the feeling if Jimmy Savile had the monopoly on a fkload of oil, the government would erect a statue of him at Westminster.

Apparently stoning gays and adulterers to death is perfectly fine, as long as we get a little bit of liquid gold from those who sanction it.

And politicians still wonder why most people think they're a bunch of useless twats. I can honestly say it's not a club I want to be part of. I am, however, a member of the Fresh Air Appreciation Society.

It's pretty easy to join – it has an open door policy.

The Olympics doesn't have such a policy and plenty of sports are desperate to get involved.

The latest trying to get in on the action is snooker.

The players are hoping that knocking in a few reds and blacks could lead to gold.

I would love to see the cue stars at the Games as I'm a big fan.

I'm actually quite good at snooker. In fact, I get a 147 every time I play.

That's the number of the bus I take to get to the snooker hall.

Despitewinning the Masters, I can't see Shaun Murphy or anyone else taking the big prize of being named world champion away from five-time top-dog Ronnie O'Sullivan.

THUMBS UP: Allardyce (above) wants Alex Song to stay at West Ham

Bristol C v W Ham

Sunday, 2pm – Live on BBC1

SAM'S GOT A SONG IN HIS HEART

SAM ALLARDYCE wants to keep Alex Song beyond the end of the season.

Midfield ace Song is on a season-long loan at West Ham from Barcelona.

And Hammers boss Allardyce would like to turn the 27-year-old's temporary switch into a permanent deal.

Big Sam said: "It lies on the financial side with the chairman, and it's whether Alex wants to stay or whether he doesn't want to stay.

"Certainly I want him to stay. Whether that's financially feasible is another matter.

Quality

"Whether other clubs with a greater size than us entices him away or whether he feels comfortable enough to say, 'Furthering my career at West Ham after the experience I've had is something I want to do'.

"There are many factors to be covered. Would I like Alex Song to stay? Yes, I would."

Ex-Arsenal star Song has been a standout performer for the high-flying Premier League outfit, who travel to Bristol City in the FA Cup today.

But Allardyce insists the Cameroon star has delivered exactly the level of performance he expected.

"Alex has not been better than I thought – I knew how good he was before he came," added Big Sam.

"There were no fears from that point of view from me on the quality that he has on the ball."

Wade Elliott reckons Bristol City's cup form can help them to promotion.

The Robins skipper can recall how a League Cup run in 2008-09 helped his then side Burnley to promotion that term.

He said: "It started with us beating Fulham and we followed that up by beating Chelsea on penalties, which gave us a lot of confidence.

Belief

"Our form had been a little bit patchy up until that point, especially away from home.

"But a fantastic cup run gave us the belief that we could go anywhere and get a result.

"I've seen it with my own eyes, and I know doing well in the cups can be transmitted into the league campaign.

"Some people are of the opinion that cup competitions are a distraction, but I'm in the school of thought that says doing well against good sides breeds confidence.

"Play well against a Premier League side and it will give the lads so much confidence."

A Villa v B'mouth

Sunday, Kick-off 3pm

CIARAN CLARK admits it is time for the Villa players to take the heat off under-fire boss Paul Lambert.

Struggling Villa host Bournemouth in the FA Cup fourth round today in what has been widely tipped as a tie with great upset potential.

While the Championship table toppers are the highest scorers in all four divisions, Villa are the lowest.

Lambert's side have also failed to win any of their last seven matches – leaving the Scot feeling the heat.

Defender Clark said: "The manager does take a lot of the flak

I'd hate to miss out on another cup final, admits Walcott

TV TURN-OFF: Calderon

BAD MEMORY: Theo Walcott missed the FA Cup final after being stretchered off against Spurs (above inset)

THEO WALCOTT is determined to make up for the agony of missing Arsenal's FA Cup glory run last season – by reaching Wembley again.

The England forward was ruled out for 10 months after rupturing his anterior cruciate ligament in last year's third-round win over Tottenham.

So he was a jealous spectator when the Gunners lifted the trophy by beating Hull in the final.

Walcott scored the winner when Arsenal last played Brighton in the competition two years ago.

But he is expecting a tough test today when the holders travel to the Amex Stadium.

Walcott recalled: "We won 3-2 there. Me and Jack Wilshere came off the bench and we managed to win it, but it was a tough game.

"A lot of people say some players have lost some love for the FA Cup, but not for me at all.

"I am sure our players, having won it last year, will want to hold on to the trophy, so it is important to start well.

"For me personally, it would be fantastic to do well in the cup because of the disappointment of last year.

"That is something I am desperate to achieve this year.

Fear

"It was hard to take definitely, missing the final. But it is one of those things that happen in football – and things happen for a reason."

Brighton full-back Inigo Calderon admits he couldn't bear to watch Arsenal win at Manchester City last weekend.

Calderon turned to the off switch – because he didn't want to get the fear seven days before the big cup clash.

"I watched and tried to switch off the TV. They were on fire and I tried not to destroy my confidence!" he said.

"It's a joy to watch when Arsenal play like this. I always try to watch them on TV because I like how they play.

"They are in really good form. We know we have to play our best game."

Calderon can't wait to lock horns with fellow Spaniard Santi Cazorla.

He added: "Santi is a really gifted player and it is no surprise in Spain they are talking about him maybe going to Barcelona.

"He has such a high technical level, I like the player he is.

"You want to play against teams like Arsenal – and we'd like to think the magic of the Cup will be with us."

Brighton v Arsenal

Sunday, 4pm – Live on BT Sport 1

MUST STEP UP FOR GAFFER

when the results aren't going our way.

"The manager's good like that.

"We know as a group of lads that some of the games we have played in we should have got better results.

"I think it's time for us all to step up and start taking a lot of the responsibility ourselves.

"The manager can only do so much in the week. The lads are all happy with what we're doing leading up to the games.

Pressure

"We couldn't be any more happier and prepared. It's about the time we get out on the pitch.

"The 11 players that start and the subs are the only ones that can do that.

"Whoever is in that 18-man squad needs to be taking more responsibility."

Bournemouth boss Eddie Howe (right) reckons his side's table-topping campaign means the pressure will be off when they head to Villa Park.

The Championship leaders fancy their chance of pulling off an upset and piling even more pressure on Lambert.

Promotion to the Premier League is the Cherries' number one priority.

But Howe insisted: "Our league position gives us a certain amount of freedom.

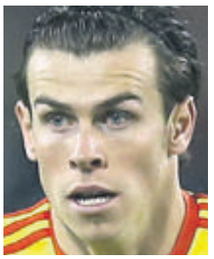
"There's always pressure regardless of where you are in the league and whether you are home or away.

"In some respects, you want that to get the best out of your players.

"I expect us to perform. We have flexibility and freedom, but that's not to say we won't try to be strong, competitive and give Aston Villa a good game."

Rochdale v Stoke

Monday, 8pm – BT Sport 1



YOUTH PAL: Gareth Bale

BALE GOOD LUCK TEXT A REAL TONIC FOR OLLY

OLLY LANCASHIRE and Rochdale will be out to keep the FA Cup Real when the League One minnows host Stoke in the fourth round... with a helping text from Gareth Bale!

Dale skipper Lancashire certainly has friends in influential places, having come through the Southampton youth ranks at the same time as Real Madrid ace Bale, Liverpool star Adam Lallana and Arsenal winger Theo Walcott.

And Lancashire is confident that Bale will have an eye on the tie.

Lancashire said: "I hope I get a text from Gareth. It'd be nice to see if he's going to watch the game, but I don't know if they can get it in Madrid!

"His mum and my mum are very close, so I'm sure they will be talking and it would be nice to get a good luck text.

"It's great to see those boys doing well, but you want a little bit of that yourself and hopefully one day it will happen."

Dreaming

Lancashire, 26, thought he would have to quit the game two seasons ago when he fell out of the league with Aldershot and had a career-threatening hernia problem.

But he uses Rickie Lambert – a Rochdale favourite earlier in his career – to inspire him.

Lancashire explained: "I played with Rickie at Southampton and you've seen what he's done.

"He's 32 now. It's inspirational to see that sort of stuff.

"As footballers – as people – you should never stop dreaming."

Jon Walters is hoping history repeats itself and Stoke reap the rewards from their sunshine break in Dubai.

After doing the same thing last term, Stoke shot up the Premier League table to finish ninth.

Striker Walters said: "Hopefully it will be a good omen for us and we'll go on a good run after it again.

"The manager decided to do the same again. It's very cold, so it was a nice little break.

"We want to improve on last year – our points, our number of goals, everything."

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND-UP

Life is a Pritch as Alex shoots down Canaries

SPAIN KILLER: Jota celebrates his opener

ALEX PRITCHARD'S penalty handed the Bees their first win at Carrow Road for 86 YEARS.

The Canaries were stung by goals from Jota and on-loan Spurs star Pritchard.

Nathan Redmond got a goal in between, but Alex Neil suffered his first defeat in three games as Norwich boss.

Steven Whittaker's terrible cock-up gifted the Bees the opener.

Moses Odubajo took advantage of the error and charged upfield. Andre Gray found Jota and he stroked in left-footed for his seventh of the campaign. But the lead lasted just six minutes as Brentford failed to clear their lines from a corner.

Redmond cut back inside the area and his shot took a deflection off James Tarkowski.

The game had got off to a storming start with chances at both ends.

Bees striker Gray ballooned over in the opening minute, then Stuart Dallas lashed a chance high and wide.

Canaries wing ace Redmond showed his talent with an accurate diagonal cross, but Gary Hooper's shot was comfortably saved by David Button. Norwich keeper John Ruddy went one better as he produced a fine save to push away a Jonathan Douglas effort.

Brentford went back in front through a controversial penalty given by Nigel Miller.

Pritchard fired in from the spot in the 71st minute after Carlos Cuellar and Michael Turner went in on Gray.

The Canaries almost levelled straight away when Bradley Johnson hit the bar with a dipping volley, and Button making a great save to deny Cameron Jerome's follow-up.

IG HAS HORNETS IN SEVEN HEAVEN

FOUR-GOAL Odion Ighalo led an astonishing turnaround as Watford hit SEVEN unanswered goals after going in 2-0 down at the break.

Andrea Orlandi and Steve Davies got the ball rolling for the Tangerines – but whatever was said in the home dressing room during the interval clearly worked a treat!

The Watford whirlwind started with Ighalo (pictured) tapping in his fifth goal in four games three minutes after the restart.

Troy Deeney was next to score, flicking home a header from a corner three minutes later.

The comeback was complete when Ighalo got behind the defence and fired home to turn the game around. Matej Vydra made it 4-2 just before the hour mark, while Gabriele Angella made it five on 66 minutes after the ball came back off the post.

There was a bit of fortune for the 73rd-minute hat-trick goal for Ighalo, as the ball hit his head and flew in after Deeney's shot had rebounded off the woodwork.

And the Nigerian tapped in No.7 on 81 minutes after Deeney rounded the hapless Elliott Parish.

GUY ON A HIGH

Charlton	0

NEW Charlton boss Guy Luzon was rewarded with his first Championship point after his side held Wolves to a stalemate at Molineux.

Luzon (above) made two changes from the side that were thrashed at Watford last week, bringing in Spurs loanee Milos Veltkovic in the centre of midfield and Morgan Fox at left-back.

He was rewarded with a more solid display from the Addicks and, although the home side dominated, they were restricted to just two shots on target.

Rajiv van la Parra was Wolves' most dangerous player, his 48th-minute header blocked on the line by Andre Bikey.

At the other end Charlton's best moment came when sub Tony Watt weaved his way through the defence, only to be foiled by Carl Ikeme.

WHAT A CON JOB!

Wigan	0
Huddersfield	1

CONOR COADY conjured a jammy winner to pile on the agony for relegation-haunted Wigan.

The Town midfielder's cross ended up in the top corner on 81 minutes to give keeper Scott Carson no chance.

It was Terriers' first away win since a 3-1 success at Wolves in October and, more importantly, it hoisted Chris Powell's men up to 15th place.

But it stretched Wigan's grim home run to 11 without a win and left them still stranded second from bottom.

The future looks no brighter with star man Callum MacManaman a £4.75million target for West Brom.

Huddersfield were good value for the three points – they had two earlier efforts from Nahki Wells and skipper Mark Hudson cleared off the line.

YESTERDAY'S

ENJOY THE BANT-ER: Mark Yeates celebrates the fourth with team-mates and (left) Jon Stead enjoys the first Bantams goal, but (above) Mourinho does not

BLUES

BRADFORD produced one of the all-time great FA Cup upsets, coming from 2-0 down to dump the Stamford Bridge superstars.

Jose Mourinho's men had been expected to cruise past the third-tier Bantams, but were cut down to size by a courageously attacking display from a side who started the day 48 league places below them.

Gary Cahill and Ramires put the Blues in the clear before Jon Stead pulled one back.

Amazingly Bradford threw everything at Chelsea in search of an equaliser, with former Blues man Filipe Morais tapping in.

And they bagged a third eight minutes from time as Andy Halliday (below) curled in from the edge of the area before substitute Mark Yeates scored another in front of the travelling fans to send them into ecstasy.

The Bantams had a golden chance to open the scoring when defender Andrew Davies won his header from a Morais corner only for Blues keeper Petr Cech to produce a magnificent stop to foil him.

And it looked like they had been made to pay in the 21st minute when Cahill got past Rory McArdle to flick in Oscar's corner at the near post.

The visitors were not deterred from their plan to attack, but found themselves two goals down on 38 minutes.

Morais was stripped by Ramires in the centre circle and the Brazilian carried the ball forward before exchanging passes with Mohamed Salah and stroking in a finish which hit the right post before settling in the opposite corner of the net.

Pounced

But Bradford halved their deficit just two minutes later as Stead fired a brilliant finish into the top corner from the edge of the area which Cech got a hand to but could not keep out.

They then drew level on 75 minutes as Morais tapped in after fellow former Chelsea man Billy Knott's shot had been saved by the legs of Cech.

Halliday's third was the best of the bunch as he pounced on Stead's pass to curl in from the edge of the area.

And, not content with three, they scored another brilliant goal as sub Yeates exchanged passes with Stead before calmly slotting past Cech.

BATTERED BY BALLSY BANTAMS

Mourinho's men stunned at home

Slick Vic is double trouble for Brum

Birmingham	1
West Brom	2

VICTOR ANICHEBE scored twice in 10 minutes as West Brom proved too strong for Birmingham.

The Nigerian powerhouse took his tally to three in his last four matches under Tony Pulis as the Premier League Baggies beat their Championship rivals.

Albion took a 25th-minute lead when Anichebe latched onto Berahino's threaded pass before drilling a pinpoint strike in off Darren Randolph's near post.

And soon after Anichebe had his second, once again receiving a Berahino pass before driving a shot beyond Randolph with the aid of an unfortunate ricochet off the Birmingham captain.

With St Andrew's stunned into silence, the game appeared over.

However, Gary Rowett's team gave themselves hope on the stroke of half-time when ex-West Brom academy product and Birmingham debutant Lloyd Dyer saw his cross crisply converted by left-back Jonothan Grounds from 10 yards out.

Boaz Myhill's game was ended early by a hand injury – prompting Pulis to bring on No.1 goalkeeper Ben Foster to face his previous club.

Robinson's lunge on Stephane Sessegnon left him with a yellow card to add to his vast collection.

Rowett introduced crown jewel Demarai Gray – this week the subject of a third failed bid from Bournemouth.

Gray twice threatened with long-range efforts, but Pulis' men held on to progress – and claim the bragging rights.

SCHLUPP'S ON THE UP AS SPURS CRASH OUT

Tottenham	1
Leicester	2

JEFFREY SCHLUPP netted Leicester's last-gasp winner as Michel Vorm went from hero to zero.

Schlupp and Leonardo Ulloa completed the comeback win after cancelling out Andros Townsend's first-half penalty.

But Spurs goalkeeper Vorm should have done better for the injury-time strike to sum up an up-and-down afternoon.

Vorm had earlier pulled off two fine stops to deny the Foxes. Croatian striker Andrej Kramaric was denied his first Leicester goal by Vorm's reflexes before Schlupp was thwarted.

To compound matters, Spurs went up the other to take a 19th-minute lead.

Roberto Soldado was hauled down by Liam Moore and Townsend scored from the spot.

Paulino and Soldado got the best out of keeper Mark Schwarzer, but Spurs looked laboured.

Leicester were rightly fuming at seeing Vorm stay on the pitch just before the break.

New £9million signing Kramaric was hauled down by the Dutchman for a clear penalty – only for referee Robert Madly to book him for diving.

It was the game's talking point as replays suggested Kramaric was harshly treated.

Spurs had barely got out of second gear, although Paulinho should have put the tie to bed on the hour mark.

The Brazilian collected Erik Lamela's cross but scuffed wide.

Leicester, who lie bottom of the Premier League, looked devoid of confidence until Ulloa popped up in the 82nd minute and Schlupp (above) then won it at the death.

Black Cats Main man can't clout Cottagers

Sunderland	0
Fulham	0

JERMAIN DEFOE'S home debut fell flat as 10-man Sunderland were forced to hang on for a replay.

The Black Cats' supposed saviour wasted two golden second-half chances as Gus Poyet's flops were booed off by a half-empty Stadium of Light after their latest woeful show.

Fans won't be queuing round the block to see a second instalment of this non-contest – neither side deserves a place in the next round after this game to forget.

A seventh bore draw of the campaign could have been even worse for Poyet's men – but Hugo Rodallega's late thunderbolt struck a post with Vito Mannone beaten.

Sunderland were up against it when they lost Jack Rodwell to a second yellow card with 25 minutes left.

The hair-brained midfielder was lucky to stay on for an ugly over-the-top first-half challenge on Konstantinos Stafylidis.

But the £10million flop from Man City didn't learn his lesson, as he earned a second caution for stupidly trying to prevent Marcus Bettinelli from throwing the ball out.

The Fulham keeper produced two fine saves to deny Defoe – once with the help of a post.

Fulham boss Kit Symons sensed blood, and boldly threw on, Rodallega and Alexander Kacaniklic after Rodwell saw red in a bid to force victory.

And it almost paid off when Rodallega struck the woodwork as Sunderland hung on to make it into the hat for the next round.

ALL THE ACTION FROM YESTERDAY'S

Blackburn 3 Swansea 1

Special Gest sinks nine-man Swans

WANTAWAY striker Rudy Gestede left the Swans flapping as Garry Monk's men ended the game with nine men.

They were rocking after just eight minutes when Kyle Bartley got his marching orders for pulling down Josh King as the Blackburn speedster raced through on goal.

Amazingly, it was Swansea who drew first blood as Gylfi Sigurdsson blasted them into the lead on 21 minutes.

Gary Bowyer's Rovers hit back when Chris Taylor swivelled well in the area and smashed past Swans keeper Lukasz Fabianski.

After the break, Bowyer brought on Gestede (right) and Jordan Rhodes to try to mix it up.

And Gestede – who is expected to join Crystal Palace this week – did the business, poking home from close range after the ball fell to him five yards out.

Late on Fabianski dropped a massive clanger when he spilled Craig Conway's drive and the ball dribbled home, before Sigurdsson was shown a straight red for scything down Taylor from behind.

DEADLY DIEGO TO THE RESCUE

Preston 1
Sheffield Utd 1

ITALIAN hotshot Diego de Girolamo kept Nigel Clough's cup specialists alive and kicking.

Preston were heading through to the fifth round for the first time since 2008 when Paul Gallagher cracked in a 35-yard free-kick.

But a moment of magic from sub Jamie Murphy set up De Girolamo and the 19-year-old smashed the ball in from six yards to force the replay.

The Blades have a cracking cup record under Clough and he likes to field his strongest side.

But this match fell between the two legs of the League Cup semi-final against Tottenham and Clough made eight changes.

Preston sensed the chance to make the most of it and took the lead when Gallagher (below) smashed a brilliant dipping free-kick beyond Mark Howard.

The closest the Blades came in the first half was when Ben Davies dragged his free-kick wide.

United got going after the break and De Girolamo levelled when he crashed the ball home from close range after excellent work from Murphy.

Derby 2 Chesterfield 0

Bent off mark – but he still misses trick

DARREN BENT scored his first Derby goal – but he should have had a hat-trick!

The on-loan Aston Villa striker (below) headed the Rams in front 20 minutes into his full debut before Will Hughes finally sealed this Derbyshire derby win with a strike eight minutes from time.

But Derby should have had a hatful, with Bent particularly wasteful.

He did at least score from two yards out after Jake Buxton had nodded on Omar Mascarell's corner.

But he was left with his head in his hands in the second half.

First he was denied by Tommy Lee in a one-on-one after being sent clear by Chris Martin.

Then the stunning Spireites keeper denied him again after Bent had pounced on a Charlie Rangan mistake.

Lee came to Chesterfield's rescue again as he pushed a Simon Dawkins header from Jamie Ward's cross onto the bar.

But Hughes eventually sealed it when he won the ball off Sam Clucas and fired past Lee.

JUMPING FOR JOY: Goal heroes Patrick Bamford and Kike celebrate Boro's sensational triumph

Hal of a late show wins it

Cardiff 1
Reading 2

WALES international Hal Robson-Kanu broke Cardiff hearts.

Super-sub Kanu came off the bench to head Reading's winner two minutes from time.

Oliver Norwood and Gareth McCleary came close early on for the Royals, but Cardiff took the lead against the run of play in the 25th minute.

Peter Whittingham's corner picked out Kenwyne Jones, who made no mistake with a firm header from six yards. It was the Trinidadian's sixth goal in eight games and his 12th of the season.

Reading suffered a second blow on 35 minutes when former Cardiff full-back Chris Gunter was forced off through injury.

Norwood's deflected shot from distance in the 50th minute almost brought Reading level. Cardiff failed to learn their lesson and were pegged back 14 minutes later.

Pavel Pogrebnyak was hauled down 25 yards from goal and Norwood beat Simon Moore with a smart free-kick.

It was no more than Steve Clarke's side deserved for their total domination.

Reading chased a winner and it finally came when Robson-Kanu (right) headed home.

CRUNCH 4TH ROUND FA CUP GAMES!

YOU'VE BEEN SHAMED!

Pellegrini's flops pay price for crap defending

By IAN WHITTELL

BLUNDERING City were dumped out of the FA Cup by goals from Patrick Bamford and Kike.

Middlesbrough struck with a 52nd-minute stunner that means there will be no FA Cup final trip for Manuel Pellegrini's Blues, who have been there in two of the last four years.

And it was all down to shocking defending as Fernando under-hit a backpass to keeper Willy Caballero and Albert Adomah pounced.

The goalie seemed to bottle it as the Boro man bore down on him and the ball rebounded against Adomah and trickled to the goalline.

Fernando got back in time to try to clear – but only succeeded in booting the ball against Bamford and into the net.

And in the third minute of stoppage-time another Boro counter ended with Bamford brought down on the edge of the box.

Ref Phil Dowd waved play on and sub Kike swept in the loose ball.

It was an amazing result – especially as Boro had stand-in keeper Tomas Mejias to thank for still being in the tie at the break.

Mejias has been such a bust since joining from Real Madrid's B team last year that he has been left as third choice for most of the season.

Flowing

But he was first-rate in the way he kept City at bay as the Blues turned up the first- half pressure.

Sergio Aguero made room for himself after 24 minutes and unleashed a near-post strike which Mejias turned into the side-netting.

Moments later, City put together a flowing move which ended with Mejias saving well from Aleksandar Kolarov.

Seconds after that, Mejias kept out Stevan Jovetic's 20-yarder.

And, luckily for the Championship outfit, when City carved out their best chance of the half it fell to defender Dedryck Boyata.

He miskicked a James Milner cross and then fired his second attempt yards over the goal.

City kept pouring on the pressure and in quick succession Milner and David Silva had shots from the edge of the area kept out by Mejias.

But the best save of the half came on 39 minutes when the lively Jovetic was denied by a spectacular dive.

But Aitor Karanka's men had not come to sit back and defend – and they served a reminder of that before the break.

First, Lee Tomlin shot just wide on the turn.

Then Tomlin jinked past Vincent Kompany far too easily, but his shot was blocked.

After the shock of taking the lead, Boro might have scored again when Caballero's awful clearance fell straight to Tomlin.

Caballero made up for that gaffe with a great save, while Grant Leadbitter's follow-up shot was blocked.

In an incredible two-minute counter-attacking blitz, Boro should have put the tie out of sight.

Adomah went clean through with only Caballero to beat, but his attempted chip never got high enough to beat the keeper.

But Tomlin was unlucky seconds later when he spun Kompany and thumped his shot against the post.

Drama

Then Adomah sped down the left and crossed for Jelle Vossen whose blinding volley was well kept out by Caballero.

The drama wasn't over and, with a minute left, City sub Frank Lampard saw his deflected shot hit the post.

REUNION: Emile Heskey

Replay gives Heskey one more crack at old club

Liverpool	0
Bolton	0

EMILE HESKEY thought this FA Cup fourth-round tie was his last game against Liverpool – but his battling Bolton team-mates have given him another crack!

The 37-year-old striker, who scored 60 goals in 223 appearances for the Reds from 2000 to 2004, barely got a sniff of goal in this Anfield stalemate.

But thanks to the efforts of Bolton's disciplined defence – and some heroics from keeper Adam Bogdan – Heskey will get a second chance in a replay at the Macron Arena.

Jordan Henderson, who had the captain's armband with Steven Gerrard rested, forced Bogdan to scramble across goal early in the tie to push a dipping half-volley past the post.

Raheem Sterling had a shot blocked by Matt Mills.

Set-pieces looked Bolton's best source of a goal in the first half.

And Dean Moxey caused a few hearts to flutter in the Kop when his low effort flashed past the post after the ball dropped to him from a free-kick.

Appealed

Philippe Coutinho's clever pass slipped in Sterling, but Bogdan rushed off his line to just beat the England forward to the ball.

A curling effort from Coutinho brought another fine diving save from Bodgan.

Bolton had chances of their own, though, and veteran forward Eidur Gudjohnsen should have done better when he lifted a shot over the bar from Josh Vela's cutback.

Liverpool boss Brendan Rodgers threw on Fabio Borini – and the Italian almost broke the deadlock with a curling effort which Bogdan tipped round the post.

Liverpool appealed for a penalty with nine minutes remaining after ex-Red Jay Spearing bundled over Henderson – but referee Kevin Friend waved away the appeals.

Emre Can headed wide from a good position and Lucas brought yet another save out of Bogdan right at the death.

EAGLES SOARING FOR PARDEW

IT'S four wins out of four for new manager Alan Pardew as Palace battled their way into the fifth round.

Twice behind, the Eagles fought back to give Pardew his first success at St Mary's since being sacked as Saints manager in August 2010.

When he was Newcastle boss, his team had lost all three visits without scoring a goal.

The rivals went goal-crazy in the opening 40 minutes. Saints were ahead when Graziano Pelle took advantage of slack marking to volley in at the far post from James Ward-Prowse's corner.

But Palace hit back when Marouane Chamakh bundled the ball in from close range after Saints goalkeeper Fraser Forster could not hold an angled shot by Yaya Sanogo.

Saints went back in front as Palace's Scott Dann slid in to try to clear Ryan Bertrand's cross from the left, but could only slice the ball into his own net.

It was his third strike in the competition this season after scoring two at the right end in Palace's third-round win at Dover.

But Sanogo scored his first goal for the Eagles from Wilfried Zaha's pass and then Chamakh (right) got his second, gliding onto a pass from defender Joel Ward to round Forster and score.

Saints lost substitute Shane Long to what looked a serious arm injury in the second half.

But they almost made it 3-3 when Palace keeper Wayne Hennessey fingertipped Eljero Elia's shot to safety.
